

FREE from Covanta Energy and the Essex County Utilities Authority: a down payment on 15% heating and cooling savings and a cleaner environment

Covanta and the ECUA want to give you a $5.00 gift card just for bringing your mercury-based thermostat to the 2010 Household Hazardous Waste Collection Day!

Here's why: An average wall thermostat contains 1-3 grams of mercury, which nearly equals 1,000 compact fluorescent lights. According to the U.S. Department of Energy, a programmable, mercury-free digital thermostat (available at Home Depot for less than $40) can help cut your home energy costs by as much as 15%. So you can do yourself - and the environment - a favor, by returning your mercury thermostat now. We will remove the mercury and recycle it - and give you a gift card in exchange.

Return your thermostat to:

Spring Household Hazardous Waste Collection Day
Saturday, 8:30am - 4:00pm, May 7, 2011

Essex County Fleet Maintenance Garage
99 West Bradford Avenue, Cedar Grove, NJ 07009